Comments: I am strongly opposed to the Yucca Mountain Project and believe that it will be a danger to the people of Nevada not only because of earthquakes, floods and the extreme weather variances we experience here, but I also believe the delivery of the waste to the site could result in many dangerous situations. Besides, whether it's the Pepcon explosion or a toy rocket factory which also burned part of NLV the other night, it seems that these types of accidents happen. Any spillage into our water table could also have horrific effects. This is a dry, windy state prone to extremes and we've already had enough from the Nevada Test Site and Tonapah.
